News:

- New program coming up: Nordic Fitness Walking. Instructor has been one of our regular pickleball volunteers, Cathy Haworth.
- Running Under the Track Lights: challenging due to casual use already present, which I don't want to deter.
- Pickleball: Awaiting access to gyms or reliable weather
- Current guidelines: New guidance is very challenging. The limiting to 2 households for most activities is just not cost effective.
- Basketball: Awaiting gym access or skipping until fall
- Triathlon Challenges:
  - The break-even is around 215 participants. The biggest expenses, which don't vary much with the amount of participants, are flaggers/officers/timing = ~$7000.
  - Accepting registration is a bit of a risk. There is a fair chance of financial loss, either due to restrictions in gatherings, or folks simply not wanting to gather.
  - COVID compliance: The limit of how many can be gathered awaiting a staggered start (50). The area is small, they can't wait in their cars (no parking). We need everyone in place before we start the race.

Facilities and Grounds

- We have been continuing on with late winter work as weather permits.
- Continuing to clean up storm debris as trail access has allowed.
- We have been cleaning up flowerbeds weeding and planting trees at trust land.
- We have continued to stain and seal some of the wood structures around Community Park.
- I am picking up the flail mower for the mini excavator on the 11th and hope to have that operational next week.
- As weather has permitted we have been cleaning up and dragging the baseball fields to get them ready for a season that is just around the corner.

Director's Items

Got the Osprey nest letter of Determination finished, and contacted Davido about the Small Water System Management plan to enable expansion of our water system. Waiting on a quote from Davido on the plan. Met with Matt and members of the Foundation on items to do with the Aquatic Wellness Center. Met with Jennifer to look at the meeting board meeting process and discuss adjustments to our administrative policies. Had meetings with our legislators in Olympia advocating for the grant programs and other Park District related items, and invited all of them for a visit when they have the time to look at our Waterman Property, the Campground and the planned Aquatic Wellness Center. More on all of this in the regular agenda. I also had a meeting with some folks from the Whidbey Watershed Stewards to discuss some possible interpretive signage at Trustland Trails. This is something that could work very well as a partnership/collaboration. I will keep the Trails committee and the board apprised of the progress.
